What It Means

By Kyle Ammettis

With a dagger of terror, we have been struck in the heart
From afar, has come an attempt to tear us apart-
But on this day, we the people will not fold
Instead we come together, we will all be bold-

Side by side, we will stand to shine our light
And all walk together, into this darkest of night.
No matter the evil, we are there one and all
To fight back this terror, to answer the call.

We will remember those heroes of times before
And because of them, our freedom will last evermore.
As day leads on today, and the time soon comes
We must all come together and do what must be done.

They have struck us hard, they have made us bleed.
But they know not what we can do, nor what we believe
We must remain close, as our hearts slowly need
So we can show the world what it means to be American.

Not the First, Not the

The Maroa Community High School District was organized in June 1920. For the ten years high school facilities were rented from the City School. At the end of this time, the enrollment had outgrown the old building and it became necessary to ask the voters to build a new building. The Board of Education was authorized to issue bonds to build at an election held on March 22, 1930. The members of the Board at this time were, D.M. Dewhirst, President; W.C. McGuire, Secretary; H.E. Gray; Calvin Query; and Dr. A.C. Ammann. Ground was broken for the new building in July, the corner stone was laid September 19, 1930, and the building formally dedicated by Hon. Francis G. Blair, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, April 24, 1931. The school was occupied however, in March. The class of 1931 was the first to graduate from it.

The architect was Charles Harris, and the contractor was George A. Moeller of Decatur, Illinois

Last, But the Best

From 1931, the time the high school was built, to 2002 Maroa-Forsyth has experienced a lot. Those 71 years have been a period of growth, change, and development. Classes have come and gone, teachers have retired and traditions have faded. Among all that has come and gone, we find this year and graduating class special. A disaster has faced us this year, as terrorists attacked on September 11, 2001. As tragic as it is, the reaction and outcome have been phenomenal. Patriotism is at it's highest as we unite to help and support one another.

In addition to an increase in nationalism, this year's senior class has accomplished many things; the girls made it to the state finals in basketball both 7th and 8th grade years, and in volleyball in the 7th grade. This class has also set highest academic standards. We scored the highest locally on the PS&E exams.

While many classes have gone, and many will come, the class of 2002 will not be forgotten: We are the BEST!

"Mardi Gras Madness"

That a baby, Nate! King N. Chandler and Queen T. Whalen

"We're irresistible." (B. Swift and B. Massey)

This year's homecoming was held on Saturday, October 22, from 8 to 11 PM. The court members included the following: King Nathan Chandler and Queen Tiffany Whalen; Senior attendants Kyle Amettis, Brad Massey, Ben Swift, Kristy Jacobsen, Shannon Furrow, and Heather Dale; Junior attendants Alex Chaney and Melissa Miller; Sophomore attendants Jaime Taylor and Jessica Hill; and Freshman attendants Jimmy Peck and Jacqueline Kent. The theme for the dance was "Mardi Gras Madness". Brightly colored balloons, beads, streamers, masks, and palm trees filled the gym! David Lee, the DJ, played some good music, and everyone had a great time.

Activities

Church Youth Group 9-12, Chorus 9-12, Musicals 9-12, Youth Leadership Institute 11, Prom Committee 11, FCCLA 9

After high school, I plan to continue my current career at the Panera Bread Company moving up to management position. I would eventually like to move out of state, and join my fellow colleague, Moe, in successfully running our own business, "Al and Moe's Bar and Grill." Soon, thereafter Mandy will join us in opening our fork store. I hope to get married and adopt one or two children.

9/20/85 - 6/30/01

(Top) Chris taught himself to play guitar. (Below) Chris was a playmaker.

Chris Canning, one of our fellow classmates, died of an accidental death the summer before his sophomore year. Chris was a young man who had accomplished much in a short time. He changed and touched the lives of many in more ways than, perhaps, we shall ever know.

Christopher was involved in many sports in and out of school. In sixth and eighth grade he played football on both offense and defense. His coaches said he had a "nose for the ball". Chris also played basketball and baseball. He loved to play not just to win but for the fun and challenge of the game.

Outside of school he participated Taekwondo. He earned his first-degree black belt in only three years! He was a multi-State and National Champion, a member of the U.S. elite team at the Olympic Training Center and an AAU "All American". When he medalled in competition he always removed the medal from around his neck after leaving the podium and immediately put it away in his gym bag, as not to show off to those who had not done as well. These and his many other accomplishments earn him the right to have a Taekwondo award named in his honor, the "Chris Canning Award of Excellence".

When Chris put his mind to something, he usually excelled in it. Aside from his athletic accomplishments he also made honor roll consistently, played classical piano, played drums in the school band, and taught himself how to play the acoustic guitar.

One of Chris's favorite things to do was to help those less fortunate than himself. He shoveled driveways for elderly people, collected coats and food for the homeless, delivered meals on wheels with his mom and best friend, and helped at his grandparents' animal shelter.

He was a family oriented guy and a loyal friend. Each night he would call his grandparents and ask if they needed anything before he went to bed. After calling he would ask his parents the same question before saying good night. No matter what he always made sure he told his whole family that he loved them.

More than any of these talents and achievements, Chris is prized for his compassion, his loving heart, and his sense of fair play and of course his ability to make us laugh. While Chris was a mischief-maker at some times, he was much more than that. Chris was a confirmed Lutheran who believed in Christ as his savior, so although his friends all miss him very much, they know he is in heaven with God.

(Right) In Chris's honor, the National AAU Taekwondo has established the "Chris Canning Award of Excellence". This annual award will recognize one martial artist who brings honor and distinction to the art of Taekwondo.

This year the FA made its return to Maroa-Forsyth. Our thirty-one members to build the program up. We participated in many Career Development Events such as Crops Judging, Parliamentary Procedure, and Poultry Judging. The highlight of our competitions was Land Use Judging where we advanced to state. This past year we also hosted Ag day and invited Grade school and Jr. High students to come and visit our chapter and see Farm Animals, Machinery, and Experiments. We hope this becomes an annual event. We feel like we did a great job in doing all of this and are hoping to expand upon our success next year.

"The Phantom Strikes Again"

For the second year in a row, Mrs. Braundmeier has put together a play with the help of our fellow classmates. Last year's play, "Is There a Comic in the House", was pretty good, unfortunately this year the play didn't do so well as far as audience. Back for more of the actions were Garr Van Orden, Danielle Fozard, Ryan Tomey, Elisse Nibbelin, Jennifer Sarna, Keith Chandler, Matt Wetzel, and Darcy Hays.

"The Phantom Strikes Again" had a "Clue" atmosphere. Perriot Preston, Louise Thomas, Allerdyce Beaman, and Winston J. Graham were all subject to an inheritance. But when the phantom and Mrs. Kite team up together, things get out of hand. Mr. Graham and Wentworth mysteriously disappear. Perriot is the smart one of the group and attempts to keep everyone calm when the lights go out. Bruiser is Perriot's personal bodyguard, but he falls for the lovely Louise Thomas. Gwen Talbot is secretly in love with Perriot. Maybelle is there to support her mom in claiming her inheritance. Wentworth is the butler and Mrs. Kite is the maid. They all teamed up for a hilarious comedy that was well put together.

The Trojanettes began 2001 with two teams; Junior Varsity and Varsity. The two teams performed at the Universal Dance Association camp at Illinois State University and both teams received a Superior Trophy for excellence in performance and the Varsity team received a fourth place Home Routine Trophy that qualified the Varsity team for a trip to Nationals in Orlando, Florida. The School year began with both teams combining for football games and eventually basketball games and competition season.

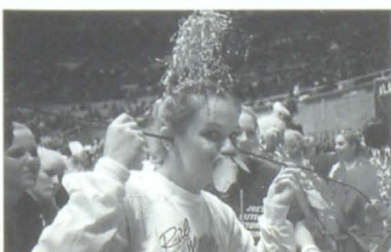

The competition season began with a slow start, but the team eventually placed first at the Jacksonville IDTA contest in the dance and lyrical divisions, and first in both routines at the Richwoods contest in Peoria. The team qualified for Super-Sectionals in Collinsville and competed in both lyrical and dance categories. They received a second place award at Super-Sectionals in Lyrical losing only by a .4 to Alton-Marquette. The team also received a third place award in dance after two teams; Duquoin and St. Anthony, tied for first. The Trojanette's highlight of the year was competing at the IDTA state contest in Champaign at the Assembly Hall. The Trojanettes received a second place in Lyrical and fifth place in the Dance categories. The team learned about choreography by Bob Fosse and performed a dance routine utilizing his style. The lyrical routine was choreographed by Jennifer Sarna.

TROJANETTES

The Trojanettes suffered through growing pains this year and overcame many hardships to gain qualification to advance to the State Illinois Drill Team contest. The team was plagued by injuries the final week before the State contest, but was able to join together to do the very best performance they could. The Trojanettes are dedicated to representing Maroa-Forsyth High School in the highest manner and enjoy bringing awards and recognition to their school.

Girls Varsity Golf

Maroa-Forsyth Girls Varsity Golf 2nd in State

The Maroa-Forsyth girls golf team had another outstanding season. The team finished the regular season undefeated, with a dual/triangular record of 19-0. They finished 1st in the Cleveland Invitational Golf Tourney, 1st in the Normal Alternate Ball and Invitational Tourney, and 2nd in the Macek Tourney. The only two teams to beat the Trojans this year was the state champs New Trier High School, and Galesburg High School who finished 5th in the state. The Trojans won their 3rd straight regional, finished 2nd in the sectional, and finished as state runner-up in the state finals in Normal, Illinois. This is the highest finish for any Maroa-Forsyth golf team in history. Congratulations to the girls for an outstanding season!
